

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I have been informed by my wireless phone service provider that a change in how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund (USF) is being considered. I believe this change, that is the move to a flat fee for USF, is unfair.

Under the flat fee proposal, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

John Wente
